

HAPPY HOME ENGLISH SCHOOL, SHARJAH

WELL-BEING OF PARENTS AND STUDENTS- 2025-2026

At Happy Home English School, the well-being of our students and their families is our top priority. We understand that learning is not just about academics—it is about growing in a safe, caring, and supportive environment where children feel confident, valued, and inspired to explore their full potential.

We strive to create a nurturing school culture where students feel emotionally secure, socially included, and motivated to learn. Our teachers are committed to recognizing the individual strengths and needs of each child, providing guidance and encouragement, and fostering a sense of curiosity, resilience, and self-confidence.

We also recognize that the well-being of students is closely linked to the support and involvement of their families. At Happy Home English School, we maintain open, respectful, and friendly communication with parents. We provide regular updates on student progress, offer guidance on supporting learning at home, and invite parents to actively participate in school activities and events.

By working together, teachers, students, and parents form a strong, supportive community that promotes not only academic success but also personal growth, emotional health, and social development. We believe that when children and parents feel happy, supported, and understood, the entire school community thrives.
