

Happy Home English School, Sharjah

Anti-Bullying Policy

The school's aim for Student Welfare is to meet the personal and social needs of each individual in a healthy, safe, and secure environment. We wish to promote good relationships within a happy, purposeful school community where respect for self and others, courtesy, and consideration are valued and practiced so that all students can flourish.

Bullying is deliberately hurtful behavior repeated often over some time there argue that bullying doesn't have to imply a series of incidents – it can be any occasion where someone deliberately intimidates or harasses another.

Bullying is described as:

- being called names and being teased
- being hit, pushed, pulled, pinched or kicked
- having their bag or other possessions taken
- receiving abusive text messages or emails
- being forced to hand over money
- being forced to do things they don't want to do
- being ignored or left out
- being attacked because of religion, gender, disability, appearance, or ethnic or racial origin.
- belittling other students' abilities and achievements

As a school, we also consider the following as falling into the category of bullying - any form of discrimination or harassment on the grounds of:

- religion or religious or philosophical belief;
- age;
- gender;
- disabilities, sensory impairment, or learning difficulties;
- socio-economic status;
- other real or perceived differences.
- race, ethnic or national origin, nationality or color;

Some bullying can be unintentional or unconscious; the perpetrator may be unaware of how his/her actions; remarks or body language can affect others.

Bullying of any kind or any form of discrimination (racist or otherwise) is unacceptable at our school. There should be no fear or danger, no threat of fear or danger, and no perception of fear or danger. If bullying does occur, all students should be able to tell someone responsible and know that incidents will be responded to efficiently and sensitively. If a victim is too frightened to tell, witnesses must do so. It is the duty of anyone who sees an act of bullying to stop it.

Bullying thrives where bystanders collude by not interfering.

Bullying of any kind or any form of discrimination (racist or otherwise) affects everyone, and we – staff, parents, and students – all have a responsibility to prevent it from happening. Our view is that prevention is better than cure and we aim to create a climate of trust and respect through a cross-curricular approach. We explore the factors that lead to bullying, and practice skills to reject such behavior in a variety of areas including:

- Personal & Social
- Education Religious & Moral Education English and Drama
- Registration Time/ Circle Time Class Assemblies

Anti-bullying Workshops/interview with a counselor:

PROCEDURES

Any report of bullying or discrimination will be taken seriously. We will take firm action against any bullying, teasing, harassment, or other form of hurtful behavior.

Staff, parents, and students should lookout for early signs of stress and note any behavior change, deterioration in work, or reluctance to come to school.

Any student who experiences, observes, or hears of bullying should report it to a member of staff. Any member of staff who observes or hears of bullying should report it to the relevant class teacher/Section. School, staff should report concerns to the respective Section Head.

When an incident is reported, it will be investigated promptly by the Discipline Committee /task force head who will interview both parties and witnesses.

The incident and interviews will be recorded, signed, dated, and filed by the class teacher or the Section Head or School Counsellor.

The Head of School will be consulted as to whether parents should be informed and if appropriate, they will be informed to discuss the problem.

The situation will be carefully monitored; the victim will be seen at regular intervals until the situation is resolved. Every situation will be judged on its own merits, and strategies to deal with it will be selected with care and sensitivity.

Any student who experiences, observes, or hears of bullying should report it to the class teacher. When an incident is reported, it will be investigated promptly by the Discipline Committee including School Counselor who will interview both parties and witnesses. If any students are caught bullying online, a warning will be issued through an email by the Class/Subject teacher.

In case students are caught doing the following, it would be considered online bullying and strict action would be taken against these students.

- scribbling/removing/ editing the documents uploaded by the teacher/ student
- remove/mute anyone from the meeting.
- inappropriately use abusive language
- chat online.
- post unwanted/inappropriate content online.

Possible strategies to help the victim

• Sometimes a word from the teacher is enough to stop the offensive behavior.

• Anti-Bullying guards may be brought together to investigate the matter further and discuss solutions.

• The whole class may be brought together if the bullying is felt to be widespread.

• A genuine apology should be given, either verbal or written, and reconciliation should be sought where and when possible.

- Peer mentoring may be employed.
- The Section Head/Class teacher will offer coping strategies for both victim and bully.
- Coping strategies for the victim
- Reassuring the Student
- Offering continuous support

Victims will be made aware that it is not their fault.

- They should be encouraged to think positively about themselves.
- They should try to work out what reaction the bully wants and not give in.
- They should not retaliate.
- They should practice assertive behavior, including body language.
- They should avoid situations where bullying might occur
- They should speak to people they trust and with whom they are comfortable.

Sanctions for the bully

These may include, as appropriate:

- Verbal warning
- Written Warning Letter to be issued. (DL @BL)
- banning from P.E. and activities
- isolation at break

Community service

- Written communication through a diary note. (BL)
- The fourth Warning Letter will be suspension from the school.
- moving seat
- verbal warning
- loss of P.E.
- loss of a position of responsibility
- detention

Positive strategies for the bully

- Bullies will be made aware of the victim's feelings, encouraged to accept responsibility, and help find solutions.
- They should be helped to change their behavior and find positive outlets for their energy.
- They may be given opportunities to make a positive contribution to school e.g. organize an event.
- In some cases, counseling may be arranged.

Community Service

We rely on trust, respect, and good communication to deal with any reports of bullying. It is the responsibility of the whole school community to try to keep The HAPPY HOME SCHOOL free of this unacceptable behavior.

Informal Procedures in response to an Incident of Bullying or Discrimination

- Each step under this procedure should be undertaken without unreasonable delay and careful records must be kept being filed appropriately.
- Informal procedures will not always be appropriate but about minor incidents of bullying, discrimination, or harassment, individuals (through mediation with the help of a member of staff) are encouraged to resolve the situation informally, by talking directly, politely, and unambiguously to the person concerned. However, if this is not possible, or is inappropriate, or does not have the desired effect, the member of staff who has responsibility for dealing with the incident should initiate formal procedures involving the Head of school as laid out below.

- During this process, staff may decide that the course of action will include specific sanctions as well as support.

Formal Procedures in response to an Incident of Bullying or Discrimination

- Each step under this procedure should be undertaken without unreasonable delay and careful records must be kept being filed appropriately.

- A full investigation into the incident will be made under the supervision of the relevant Head of phase

- Statements will be gathered from the alleged bully and from the alleged victim giving their perspectives on precisely what happened.

- Further statements may be taken from witnesses to the incident where appropriate. These witnesses may be students or members of staff but must stand up to scrutiny as objective.

- Parents will be informed and, as required, asked to come into school to discuss what has happened. (DL @BL)

- A decision will be made as to the action required. This may involve disciplinary procedures intended to change and modify behavior rather than label anyone as a bully or a racist.

Possible sanctions are listed

- Staff will monitor both bully and victim on an ongoing basis and will keep parents or guardians informed of any developments.

- Each incident will be reviewed after an agreed period. The manner of this review will be dependent on the nature of the incident and the ages of those involved
